

SERVICES MARKET LIBERALIZATION IN CROATIA

POLICY OVERVIEW

Services market liberalization is a part of the regulatory reform horizontally led by the Ministry of Economy and Sustainable Development. In the context of the public policy cycle, the Ministry is responsible for the initiation, formulation, encouraging implementation, monitoring, reporting, and evaluation of reform measures. At the same time, the competent authorities ensure the preparation of legislative implementation.

The main objective of this reform is to facilitate services market entry, boost productivity and competitiveness, and further open the institutional framework for potential and existing entrepreneurs. Therefore, Croatia plans to increase the cumulative number of implemented measures to at least 300 by the end of 2024 by further reducing regulatory requirements and fostering administrative simplifications for professional service providers.

By the end of 2023, 286 measures were implemented in about 50 activities and professions. Since 2019, measures in this area have been implemented through action plans for liberalization of the services market, following the regulatory analysis of professional services by the World Bank (funded by the European Commission under the Structural Reform Support Programme). In the process, 18 out of 20 measures of the first action plan and 17 out of 18 measures of the second action plan were implemented.

With these 286 measures, the target value was achieved and even exceeded as a result indicator under the National Reform Programme 2020. At the same time, the expected dynamics of implementing additional measures is achieved with the National Recovery and Resilience Plan 2021-2026, the National Reform Programme 2022, and the National Reform Programme 2023, in a way that there are at least 300 measures in total by the end of 2024.

SUMMARY OF THE MEASURES IMPLEMENTED

Open cross-border market competition: The domestic market is open to competition from the EU market in most service activities. Freedom of establishment permanently has been provided mutually within the EU. Furthermore, the freedom to provide cross-border services on a temporary and occasional basis has been provided for various business activities for EU/EEA nationals, without obligation to register a company, to be a member of a professional chamber, or to pass a professional exam. Freedom of establishment has been provided as well. Also, in the context of Croatia's accession to the OECD, tax advisors are the first profession in which the freedom to provide cross-border services has been enabled for natural and legal persons with residence in OECD countries. In addition, an open market for the OECD and the entire WTO has already been enabled for architects and engineers.

Simplified procedures: Starting a business has been simplified, accelerated, and digitalized. As regards access to the services market, digital procedures are available for a growing number of professions as well as qualification recognition (architects, civil engineers, mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, geodetic engineers, tax advisors, auditors, detectives, driving schools, tourism and catering industry, tourist guides, intellectual property, private education, real estate agents, retail, e-commerce, and health professions), and the digitalization process is ongoing. For various other services, scanned documents may be sent by e-mail, without seals and stamps, and without the additional obligation of sending the documents via post office. Information on requests for the services sector is available in one place, without obligation to go to institutions in person.

Less duplication and zero-licensing: Equivalent types of professional liability insurance are recognized from other EU/EEA states. The access to regulated professions through automatic recognition of professional qualifications for EU/EEA citizens has been facilitated, and the same applies to Croatian professionals in the EU market. The government does not demand information from domestic service providers that it already has in the system. The use of IMI system for verification of information on the cross-border service providers has been increased. Licensing of accountants has been revoked. Relicensing of construction companies has been removed, including energy certification, auditors, and psychotherapists, as well as licensing of tourist guides, employment agencies, and accountants. The professional chamber is not mandatory for construction site managers anymore. Similarly, engineers of traffic and transport technology have the right to join the chamber, not the obligation, as originally planned.

No permanent residence obligation and fewer certificates: Architects, engineers, and geodetic engineers, as well as many other professions, are no longer under obligation to register their permanent residence in Croatia. Architects and geodetic engineers are no longer under obligation to prove that they are not under any criminal investigation or criminal proceeding.

Less time to obtain the license: Mandatory work experience for architects, engineers, and geodetic engineers has been reduced to two years, for auditors to four years, and for veterinarians to six months, while it is no longer required for tourist agency managers. Work experience for notaries has been reduced. The right to take a professional exam for tax advisors has been granted to candidates with completed graduate or master's degrees and with three years of relevant work experience, and to candidates with specialist studies and five years of relevant work experience.

Easier recognition of professional qualifications: Automatic recognition of professional qualifications has been implemented for the professions from other EU/EEA states. A general system for recognition of professional qualifications from third countries has been introduced as well. European Professional Card issued for the provision of services on a temporary and occasional basis gives an automatic right to practice the profession without fulfilling any additional requirement. A person who wants to provide regulated professional services may notify electronically the competent authority thereof or Point of Single Contact for services. Croatian language proficiency test is not required anymore for professionals from EU/EEA states, except for healthcare professionals due to patient safety. There is a 30-day deadline for a competent authority to issue a decision on the recognition of foreign professional qualifications after the fulfillment of an additional measure. Fees for cross-border service provision and recognition of engineering qualifications have been reduced.

Market prices: Removing fixed tariffs has enabled free price formation and negotiation in various professions and sectors such as accountants, real estate agents, architects, engineers, auditors, tax advisors, taxi drivers, driving schools, etc. Furthermore, it is possible to determine the price of legal services more flexibly, in such a way that in all legal matters lawyers can agree with the client in writing to work on an hourly basis, whereby they are not obliged to adhere to the minimum hourly rate. The statutory right of the chamber to impose fees for tax consultancy services has been abolished.

Less exclusive rights and more participatory rights: Interior and landscape design are not exclusively under the competence of architects, so there are no limitations for others to perform this business activity. It has been provided for tax advisors to participate in tax administrative matters before administrative courts.

Advertising options: Architects and engineers, tax advisors, lawyers, pharmacists, and physiotherapists are no longer banned from advertising their services, and this is also the case in many other professions.

No office and license restrictions: Territorial restrictions considering the number of licenses have been removed (e.g., for driving schools and taxi services). Taxi drivers may obtain licenses in any municipality. This enables the expansion of professional businesses and their new investments. Furthermore, founders of driving schools, private archives, private educational institutions, and private scientific institutes are no longer under obligation to have economic justification for their business using a study. Architects, engineers, auditors, and lawyers are free to open new offices like most other occupations and professions.

Selection of legal form: In most professions, there are no limitations in terms of the legal form. Therefore, entrepreneurs decide independently whether they want to start a business as natural or legal persons. This enables the removal of costs of obligatory status change, for example from a natural to a legal person. For example, lawyers and tax advisors may also establish a limited liability company (d.o.o.).

No ownership and establishment restrictions: The 51% shareholding requirement concerning ownership interests or membership in a tax consultancy company has been abolished. The same principle has already been provided for architects, engineers, and other professions. Also, any natural or legal person, and not just a tax advisor, has founding rights in a tax consultancy company (with at least one licensed tax advisor). Also, the shareholding requirement for auditors has been reduced from 75 to 51%.

More open employment practices: As with other professions, civil engineers and online travel agencies are no longer under an obligation to hire a minimum number of employees; instead, they independently decide on this matter. Freedom of concluding full-time or part-time job contracts is provided for driving schools. Online travel agency office managers are no longer under obligation to have permanent residence. Also, there is no obligation to have a full-time employed office manager in every branch office of a travel agency. The ban on employment with another natural or legal person has been lifted for tax advisors pursuing a self-employed activity.

Facilitated provision of lawyer services: Croatian lawyers may practice their profession in companies in other EU Member States. When the profession is practiced outside a law firm, the right to practice law profession does not cease to exist for Croatian lawyers in other EU Member States. Branch offices of EU law firms may provide consulting services on Croatian law as well. Lawyers from other EU Member States may start a law firm in Croatia, and they can provide legal services jointly with Croatian lawyers or lawyers from other EU Member States, without obligation to wait for recognition of qualifications to have an equal status with Croatian lawyers. It is possible to start employment as a lawyer with another lawyer who as an employer independently practices the legal profession, and within a joint law firm. Lawyers who without a justified cause do not practice their profession for more than 6 months will no longer be deleted from the register. Specific administrative requirements for European lawyers have been reduced. The high fee for chamber re-enrolment is no longer payable, while the fee for the first enrolment has been reduced by 40%.

METHODOLOGY AND RESULTS

According to OECD data from the five-year report Product Market Regulation \(PMR 2018\) in comparison with PMR 2013, the level of regulation of the Croatian economy and the services market has been reduced from the highest level (upon the EU accession) to the average level of the EU and OECD (before Poland, Slovakia, Malta, Bulgaria, Romania, Austria, France, and Belgium). In the meantime, this Regulation has been lowered below this average (according to the OECD's simulation of facilitating starting a business using the START system), which puts Croatia roughly at the same level of regulation as the Czech Republic, Slovenia, Hungary, Estonia, and Latvia. Within the given result, the average level of the services market regulation, including main market professions, refers to accountants, architects, engineers, real estate agents, taxi services, sectors of road transport, energy, telecommunications, retail, public procurement, foreign investments, and starting a business. Here, the total level of regulation of the services market entry is among the ten least regulated in the EU internal market and slightly below the OECD average. On the other hand, pharmacies are among the most regulated in comparison with the EU and OECD (along with Luxemburg, Spain, and Malta). Also, legal services (lawyers and notaries) are more regulated than the EU average, however, they are at the level of comparable countries (Estonia, Hungary, Slovenia, Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, and so on).

Additional information

- According to the report (PMR 2013) Croatia had the most regulated economy (with 2.08) upon its entry into the internal market of the European Economic Area. On the other hand, according to the new report (PMR 2018) Croatia scored 1.43, which is within the EU and OECD average. Accordingly, Croatia was at the level of countries such as Iceland, Chile, Japan, and Israel, and within the EU it was less regulated than Poland, Slovakia, Malta, Bulgaria, Romania, Austria, France, and Belgium.
- However, when looking at the e-registration of establishment in real-time (Administrative Burden on Start-ups), Croatia has since the end of 2019 been below the EU and OECD average (with a maximum of 1.35, according to the OECD simulation), and with real corrections to certain data (Interaction with interest groups) and below, as there are public consultations with certain interested stakeholders. Thus, Croatia is roughly at the level of the comparable Czech Republic, Slovenia, Hungary, Estonia, and Latvia.
- Observing the two main segments measured by the PMR, with 1.82 Croatia is above the EU and OECD average in terms of influence by the state-owned enterprises (Distortions Induced by State Involvement), while with 1.05 below that average according to market entry regulation (Barriers to Domestic and Foreign Entry), where a company registration, services market entry in more sectors, as well as retail and investments, are observed. In particular, Croatia is according to market entry regulation among ten the least regulated EU Member States in the internal market, at the level of the Netherlands, Estonia, and Hungary, and it is less regulated than the comparable Czech Republic, Slovakia, Poland, and Romania. Since electronic registration of a company has been implemented, according to the OECD simulation the market entry regulation level has been reduced to 0.92, below the level of Slovenia.
- Regarding the services sector regulation (Barriers in Services Sectors), Croatia is with 2.22 among 10 EU Member States with a lower level of regulation, and at the same time with less than for example Latvia, Slovakia, Poland, and Romania. Croatia is also close to the OECD average and about 10 % below the EU average.
- As for the main professional services in the market (Professional Services), such as accountants, architects, civil engineers, real estate agents and lawyers, with 1.48 Croatia is below the EU and OECD average. Here the Croatian market of professional services is less regulated than the comparable markets of Poland, Latvia, Slovenia, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Germany, Austria, Romania, and Bulgaria. Also, Croatia has almost the lowest level of regulation for professions among Central European countries that share a similar continental regulatory framework. Furthermore, the regulation of lawyers (as well as of the notaries) is within the framework of the comparable Central European countries, although it is slightly above the EU average. In comparison with the last PMR, the regulation of lawyers has been slightly reduced (from 5.08 to 3.85), i.e., it is lower than in Hungary, Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, and Slovenia. The level of regulation for architects (from 3.85 to 1.15) and engineers has been reduced so that it is below the EU and OECD average, while engineers are within the EU average. Also, Croatia is among ten EU Member States that do not have licensing for accountants (0.00).

- Retail Distribution Sector is open to competition and with 1.22 is somewhat less regulated than the EU and OECD average, including the comparison with Latvia, Poland, and Slovakia. On the other hand, the sale of medicinal products, i.e., pharmacies are at 4.50 among the most regulated within the EU, and only less than Luxembourg and Spain.
- Regulation of Network Sectors has been reduced to a level slightly above the EU and OECD average (from 2.25 to 1.53), and it is lower than for example in Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, and Romania. The regulation has been reduced in the energy sector (from 3.02 to 1.49), from electricity (from 3.85 to 1.50) to natural gas (from 2.16 to 1.48). Furthermore, regulation in the transport sector has been reduced (to 2.15), and regulation of road transport (including taxi service) is among the lowest in the internal market. Regulation of telecommunications is with 0.35 within the EU average and is significantly lower than the OECD average. Over-regulation of mobile telecommunications almost does not exist (0.02), as in several EU Member States such as the Czech Republic and Estonia.
